

It is this evening the celebrated Swiss Bell-ringers will give a grand concert at Ocean House. The reputation which these musicians bring with them is enough, of itself, to ensure a crowded house. Madame Lovany and Herr Stoppel will preside at one of Chickering's best Pianos. We feel safe in saying that this will be one of the most novel and interesting entertainments which has been given here this season. This is the only opportunity which any of our citizens will have of hearing them, for a long time, as they are about proceeding to South America and Mexico, and will not probably return to this country again in several years. It will be a rich entertainment, and we advise all to go and hear them. Children will be admitted at half price.

Mr. Editor:—Will you allow me, through the columns of your journal, to enquire why it is that our Asylum, in the welfare of which each of us citizens take a just pride, should be made the receptacle of every vagrant and profligate who chances to incur the displeasure of our town fathers? The taxes of our town are already sufficiently onerous, without extending to every disreputable person the privilege of "board for the season" at the expense of those citizens who are unfortunate enough to be tax payers; and by the standard established by our Town Council, every person, however respectable, who unfortunately suffers reverses of fortune and seeks a home in the Asylum, which, perhaps, his own labors have contributed to establish and support, is compelled to mingle and to associate with profligate, vagrants and the off-scourings of our over-populous cities. Is this to be submitted to by thinking, reasonable men? Shall the poor widow, the unfortunate father, or the heart-stricken child, be contaminated in their abode of misfortune, by contact with vulgarity, lawlessness, disease and loathsomeness? Let every citizen, think of this; apply to his own circle of friends or acquaintance, and when the time arrives, if a severe rebuke is demanded, apply it, and apply it, too, with a will. Yours, DECEMENCY.

THE LAW OF DIVORCE IN CALIFORNIA.—The criminal law enforced at San Francisco has been the subject of some astonishment in more civilized communities, and the following report of a divorce, which is a rare case, is of some interest.

The wife was the complainant, and her counsel attempted to prove that an agreement to separate had been entered into by the parties on coming across the plains; but was afterward refused to be carried out by the defendant. Cruelly she attempted to be established by the plaintiff's fetching wail and water, and doing other unbecoming duties, such as cooking, etc., both on coming across the plains and after she arrived in California. The only hard language the husband was heard to use toward his wife was once calling her a liar. The husband proved disobedience to his wishes in her attending at balls and mixing with society that did not meet his approbation; also that the unbecoming duties complained of were voluntarily performed by the lady and not at the husband's command, he being all the time industriously employed. The above is in substance all that was sworn to in Court on either side. Judge Parwell's charge to the jury was in substance as follows: "Marriage is a civil contract, and subject to all the conditions of other civil contracts; and can be entered into and broken at the pleasure of the parties themselves. If the jury are of opinion that an engagement was entered into on the plains to separate, and the defendant afterward refused to do so, they must find for the plaintiff."

The jury under this charge could not fail to find a verdict for the complainant, inasmuch as it was apparent that it was her pleasure to break the contract. If such interpretations of law are to prevail in California, all the gold that is discovered on her soil cannot compensate for the degradation into which the people will fall. It is shocking to see such ignorance and immorality on the bench.

TRUTH AND CANDOR. A Medicine scientifically and skillfully compounded, which makes no undue pretensions, and is recommended by citizens of the highest respectability, deserves the patronage of the public. Such a medicine is the Oxygenated Butters, for the cure of Dyspepsia in all its forms.

The New Bedford Shipping List states that the whole number of vessels employed in the whale fishery is 655. This is an American vessel, we presume. The total amount of property invested in the whaling business must be between $20,000,000 and $30,000,000.

Zephyrs from the Ocean House.
(NO. 6.)

Ocean House, Aug. 30, 1851. I now take up my pen to fulfill the promise made in my last letter, by giving you readers some idea of the Grand Dress Ball at this house last evening. It was the most agreeable Ball which was ever given at this House, and everything passed off in a manner which was entirely satisfactory to all present, and which reflected the highest credit upon the Managers and the liberal host, Mr. Weaver.

The Dining Room was beautifully lighted and decorated, so that when the doors were thrown open, it seemed as if a flood of light and beauty had suddenly been reflected upon all around. The ladies and gentlemen began to enter a little before 10 o'clock, and the Hall was soon filled with one of the most agreeable companies which I have ever seen assembled upon such an occasion. The delicious notes of the Germanians soon filled the hearts of all with delight, and inspired them with the poetry of motion. These excellent Musicians never performed more gloriously than on this occasion, and no guests of the ball-room ever appeared so ready and anxious to improve every moment, as those who were here last night.

The following are the names of the MANAGERS.

- | | |
|---|---------------------------------------|
| His Excellency Gov. W. B. Lawrence, R. I. | Hon. George Bancroft New York. |
| Hon. Robert C. Winthrop, Mass. | William Habersham, Georgia. |
| Col. W. R. Hallett, Alabama. | Hon. F. S. Lyon, " |
| Dr. Calhoun, Mississippi. | Mr. C. R. P. Stockton, New Jersey. |
| Wm. Urquhart, Louisiana. | Col. W. S. Wetmore, New York. |
| Charles DeHann, " | Atty. Gen. H. C. Stansbury, Ohio. |
| Col. J. P. Pratt, New York. | J. H. B. Latrobe, Baltimore. |
| Benj. Adams, Kentucky. | John W. Coleman, Cincinnati. |
| W. G. Ray, Missouri. | Col. A. J. Polk, Tennessee. |
| Gen. Hamilton, Texas. | Conway Robinson, Virginia. |
| Julius Pringle, Charleston. | Matt Middleton, " |
| Arthur Middleton, " | Theo. Phinney, Havana. |
| Jas. Thompson, " | O. C. Ward, Baltimore. |
| O. H. Williams, " | L. Gettings, " |
| W. H. D. C. Wright, Baltimore. | F. W. Bruce, " |
| Fred. Graff, " | Jas. Tennant, Philadelphia. |
| J. S. De Havilland, " | C. Carroll Tucker, " |
| G. Bryan Scholl, " | Col. Davenport, " |
| Messrs. Wallace & Drayton, Phil. | J. S. Wright, Brazil. |
| Washington Caster, New York. | Walter C. Barclay, " |
| Charles Clinton, " | John Jay, " |
| Edward Laight, " | Gould Hoyt, " |
| Fred. Gebhard, " | Stephen Brush, " |
| Col. W. B. Lawrence, " | Chas. A. Bristed, " |
| Charles A. Vanzandt, " | Col. S. A. Willoughby, " |
| J. V. Meserole, " | Charles L. Woodbury, Boston. |
| John H. Welch, " | Alleyan Otis, " |
| G. B. Raymond, " | H. Hallett, " |
| J. Cunningham, " | Mr. Ritchie, " |
| Fred. Sears, " | Quincy Shaw, " |
| J. Curtis, " | Messrs. Milligan & Fiske, N. Orleans. |
| Mr. Jarvis, Middletown. | S. Wiggins, Cincinnati. |
| Charles Inyatt, " | Geo. Ludlow, " |
| Charles Ensign, " | P. J. Grund, Washington. |
| Robert Walsh, " | A. Pedelford, Savannah. |
| W. Habersham, Georgia. | C. S. Arnold, " |
| J. C. Ford, Louisville. | Major Pitman, Rhode Island. |
| R. M. Sherman, San Francisco. | Wilson McGonigle, U. S. N. |

COMMITTEE OF FLOOR.

Gould Hoyt, E. Laight, Walter C. Barclay, Carol Tucker, G. Bryan Scholl, Chas. Inyatt, C. De Rham, J. Cunningham, H. Hallett, Mr. Milligan, Mr. Ritchie, Mr. Fiske, Fred. Sears, Mr. Urquhart, J. W. Bruce, G. Ludlow, F. Graff, Major Pitman, Dr. Henry, Col. W. B. Lawrence, Charles A. Vanzandt, John S. Wright.

COMMITTEE OF MUSIC.

Washington Caster, Walter C. Barclay, B. C. Ward, J. H. B. Latrobe. The Committee will be distinguished by the following different badges:— Committee of Floor, White. " " Music, Blue. " " Management, Red. " " Reception, Yellow.

I next give you the

PROGRAMME OF DANCES.

- | | |
|---|--|
| 1 Promenade, Gipsy March, Bergmann. | 2 Quadrille, Ferdinands, Strauss. |
| 3 Polka, Love, Ach & Krach, Bergmann. | 4 Quadrille, Madras, Strauss. |
| 5 Waltz, Boys of Hope, Strauss. | 6 Quadrille, Lodi, Strauss. |
| 7 Schottisch, Kladdadatech, Bergmann. | 8 Quadrille, Homage, Strauss. |
| 9 Polka, Sylph, Strauss. | 10 Quadrille, Without title, Strauss. |
| 11 Polka-redowa Fancy Ball, Bergmann. | Supper, Intermission of forty minutes. |
| 12 Quadrille, Charivari, Strauss. | 13 Waltz, Evening Star, Strauss. |
| 14 Quadrille, El Dorado, Strauss. | 15 Schottisch, Reve d'Amour, Hübner. |
| 16 Quadrille, Haste volte, Strauss. | 17 Polka, Upper Ten, Strauss. |
| 18 Quadrille, Pick-pocket, Strauss. | 19 Waltz, Adelsheim, Strauss. |
| 20 Quadrille, Souvenir del Carnival, Strauss. | 21 Polka, Exeter, Strauss. |

Of course, in a Grand Dress Ball of this kind, there is not such a variety of costumes to describe, as in a Fancy Ball, and there must necessarily be something of a sameness in the particulars. The following descriptions are quite accurate, and were noted down during the evening, with care, after close inspection.

Among the many well-dressed women in the ball-room, it would, perhaps, be difficult to discriminate, without seeming invidious,—but I think that the general impression was that the palm was to be awarded to the richness, simplicity and refinement of the white dress of Mrs. J. W. Coleman, of Cincinnati. Perhaps the air and carriage of the lady—the quiet dignity of her easy movement, and the graciousness of her presence, may have lent their charm to the rich tissue of her dress—perhaps it was the figure that still further aided the effect of her costume,—perhaps it was hair,—but, certainly, to whatever it was owing, Mrs. Coleman was, last evening, in the language of Spencer, "a fayre and noble lady, in rare guise bedight."

Mrs. Walter C. Barclay, of New York, was dressed in a rich and splendid slate-colored figured satin; she was one of the most dignified and beautiful ladies in the Hall, and attracted much attention.

Madame Wallace Bouchelle, figured satin, beautifully flounced and very rich.

Miss Ellen Woodbury, of Portsmouth, N. H.; corn-colored satin covered with lace; she wore a splendid necklace, and appeared as beautiful as ever. She danced much and well, and received a great deal of attention.

Mrs. Col. William Gates, of this town; white muslin, trimmed with white satin, with a beautiful wreath of flowers on her head; she is a fine-looking and pleasing lady. Her sister, Miss Carter, was dressed in a plain corn-colored satin; she has an agreeable face, and is a very pleasant lady; both ladies received a good deal of attention.

Miss Camilla Scott, daughter of Gen. Scott; plain white muslin with deep flounces; very neat and exceedingly appropriate.

Mrs. James Tennant, of Philadelphia; pink and white striped silk, very rich and entirely unique,—one of the most beautiful dresses in the hall.

The two Misses Jarvis, of Middletown, Connecticut; white satin covered with white muslin, beautifully trimmed with wreaths of flowers. These dresses were very rich, and the young ladies received a great deal of attention; their bright and pleasing faces always fascinated all around and within the atmosphere of their loveliness. The younger wore her hair dressed in the style of the "Greek Slave."

Miss Winthrop, of New York; white muslin with deep flounces; she has a fine figure, and was one of the best dancers in the hall.

Miss Sallie Tennant, of Philadelphia; spotted silk, very pretty; she is quite a favorite with the gentlemen.

Miss Lizzie Hoffman, of Baltimore; white muslin, covered with Polka spotted lace.

Mrs. Gen. Wayne; figured Tartan muslin, with satin waist.

Mrs. Col. Scott, daughter of Gen. Scott; beautiful pink plaid silk.

Miss Winthrop, of New York; pink satin, covered with pink Swiss muslin; she is very handsome.

Mrs. Francis J. Grund, of Washington; dark figured silk; a very stately and fine-looking lady.

Mrs. Styles, of Providence; neatly and plainly dressed.

Mrs. Meserole, of New York; plain white satin; she is very handsome.

Miss Holbrook, of Boston; white satin, covered with lace; she has a sweet, bright, intelligent face, and looks as if no shade of sorrow had ever crossed her brow; long may she live, thus free from the afflictions of this varying world.

Miss Gettings, of Baltimore; white satin, very appropriate; she is a fine-looking lady.

Miss Chase, of Boston; white satin, covered with white muslin; she wore a beautiful wreath of flowers on her head. She is a tall, and very handsome lady, and appeared to splendid advantage.

Miss Ellen Ward, of Baltimore; blue satin, trimmed with flowers; she is a very lovely lady, and is always surrounded by substantial and sensible friends, who appreciate her many accomplishments. Her sister, Miss Julia Ward; plain white muslin; she has a very pleasing face, and is a charming young lady.

Miss Didier, of Baltimore; plain white satin, trimmed with pearls.

Miss Clinton, of New York; white muslin, with a bewitching little pink suit in apron; she has a sweet, modest face, and is an estimable and pleasing young lady.

The venerable Mrs. De Witt Clinton was in the Hall for a short time, quietly observing the scene of gaiety around her.

Miss Rebecca Taylor, of Baltimore daughter of Col. Taylor of the Army, and niece of the late President Taylor, white satin, covered with lace and flounced; she is gifted with remarkable and very pleasing conversational powers.

Miss Gettings, of Baltimore; white satin; a fine looking lady.

Miss Fessett, of Philadelphia; pink satin, covered with white lace.

Miss Clara Hoffman, of Baltimore; blue satin, covered with white lace; she is very pretty and graceful.

Miss Middleton; blue figured silk.

Miss Meade, of New York; plain white muslin.

Mrs. Ludlow, of New York; blue silk; she is very handsome, and is a quiet, pleasant lady, of most agreeable manners.

Miss Devereux, of New Haven; white satin, with a wreath of flowers around her head; she is very handsome and exceedingly graceful.

Mrs. Windrop, of New York; plain blue silk.

Mrs. Ward, of Baltimore; an estimable lady,—mother of the young ladies already spoken of.

Miss Cunningham, of New York; rich ball-dress of white lace, flounced, very rich and stylish.

Miss Salts, of New York; rich pink figured silk.

Miss Prince, of New York; pink corded muslin, very rich.

Mrs. Chickering, Jr., of Boston; white Tartan muslin; very pleasant face, and exceedingly affable manners.

Miss Stone, of New York; pink Tartan; fine-looking lady.

Miss Vanzandt, of New York; pink satin, covered with Swiss muslin.

Miss Caldwell, of North Carolina; splendid blue silk, with an elegant wreath of roses around her head; she is very handsome and graceful, and attracted much attention.

Miss Pope, of Mobile; white satin, trimmed with rich heavy fringe around the neck; she was one of the most beautiful ladies present. She has very regular features, and there is a mildness and intelligence in the expression of her face, which plainly show her to be an estimable young lady.

Miss Seymour, of New York; corn-colored satin, very rich.

Miss Snelling, of Boston; white muslin, very prettily embroidered in front and around the neck with orange-colored gauze.

Miss Nelson, of New York; pink silk; a very accomplished lady.

Mrs. Forbes, of Canton; white muslin with spangles; very beautiful dress.

Miss Wright, of Baltimore; light figured silk, very rich; she is very handsome.

Mrs. Col. Sanford, of Georgia; splendid white dress, with velvet and diamonds; distinguished for her rare conversational powers.

Mrs. Seymour, of New York; rich pink figured silk, very splendid.

Mrs. Welch, of Boston; splendid white watered silk, with a profusion of pearls in her hair.

two muslin.

Miss Laura Gibbs, of New York; pink lace, with head richly adorned with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Col. Polk, of Tennessee; orange colored silk, with deep scalloped flounces, very rich and beautiful, and worn with much grace. She is very handsome, and her conversational powers are rare indeed. Endowed with much intelligence and amiability, she is a valuable companion.

At half past 12 o'clock Supper was announced, and the whole assemblage moved through the house to the Dining hall, in the colony, where the tables were most beautifully arranged, with everything which the most delicate Epicurean taste could desire. This department was under the charge of Darling, the Steward, McDrake, land waiter, and his Lieutenant, Delap. Mr. Weaver spared no pains or expense for an excellent Supper, and he succeeded in giving the fullest satisfaction to all. I have never seen a more beautiful table. It was decorated with flowers beautifully arranged and graciously furnished by T. Galvin & Son. The following is the

BILL OF FARE

BY ALBERT JACOBY.
OYSTERS.
Stewed, Fried, Escalloped.
ORNAMENTS.
Hue de Sanglier, à la Française.
Galette de Dupon sur Sole.
En Pyramide à la Duc de Montebello.
Jambon de Bayonne, à la Fédérale.
Galette de Sige sur sole à la Parisienne.
Langue de Boeuf, à la Rochefort.
Mayonnaise de Volailles en Suprême.
d'Hennard en Gelée.
Huitres en Gelée.
DESSERT.
Charlotte de Russe.
Peaches, Almonds, Raisins.

The excellent things were eaten by the guests, in good earnest, as if they were hungry and really enjoyed them. Supper being over, the guests again returned to the Hall, and the Dancing was resumed.

Among the gentlemen present, we noticed the following:—Mr. Cruger, J. C. Wright, Col. Willoughby, H. A. Middleton, Walter C. Barclay, Mr. Welch, J. W. Coleman, W. B. Lawrence, Jr., Isaac Lawrence, Mr. Meade, Mr. Ludlow, W. H. King, Mr. Lyford, B. C. Ward, W. Costar, J. H. B. Latrobe, Col. Polk, Col. Gates, Mr. Raymond, A. Robeson, Jr., Senator Long, P. F. De Launty, ex-consul from Honduras, Lt. Morris, son of the poet, Major Pitman, J. F. Marsh, of the Boston Bee, Mr. Palmer, of the N. Y. Herald, Mr. Clapp, formerly of the Boston Evening Gazette, Mr. Styles, of the Providence Post, Mr. Wright, of Baltimore, Mr. Phinney, C. L. Woodbury, Col. Sanford, Capt. Glynn, U. S. Navy, Mr. Snelling, Mr. Jarvis, R. M. Sherman, of San Francisco, Mr. Sea-Serpent Bachelier, Mr. Harvey, Mr. Hubbard, Mr. Havilland, Mr. Lathrop,—and many others whom we did not know.

The Dancing was continued until 1 o'clock, when the time was deserted, and the weary ones sought repose.

THE SUPPER AFTER THE BALL.

After the description of the superb Supper given to the brilliant company of the Ball, I must not fail to note the choice entertainment given to the Managers, after the ladies had retired.

Mr. Weaver, with his characteristic liberality and good taste, provided a Game Supper for about fifty of the gentlemen who had been active in contributing to the convivialities of the night. After discussing the Woodcock, Plover, etc., choice wines of the host, etc., the Secretary, with his usual wit, called out several gentlemen of the Managers for vocal contributions, to which responses were given in the thrilling choruses of Bellini, Rossini, Meyerbeer, Gluck and others. Gentlemen of 15 States of this blessed Union, of the North, South, East and West, contributed to this convivial Concert,—and I have rarely, if ever, heard such beautiful singing from a company of amateurs. But as many of them had been accustomed, for successive seasons, to listen to the thrilling charms of Lablache, Rubini, Mario, Tamburini, Grisi, Pasta, Albertazzi, the old Italian Opera, in its culminating climax, it is not matter of surprise that, with beautiful voices, they should, upon this joyous occasion, recall, in tones of sweetest expression, some of their choicest recollections of those strains which dwell in the heart and thrill the ear with all that charms and entralls. The Opera Ballad, the Glee, the Song, comic and heroic, all came forth in one spontaneous union, as they were called to distinguish the guests of this select party, among the best amateur singers of the day. The whole affair, in the arrangements made by the host of the Ocean House, characterized him as one of the most liberal caterers of the day, while it demonstrates that it is quite feasible for any local cliques to attempt to do honor to the guests of 15 States of this glorious constellation, the States of the United States, that they should not do honor to the fair and brave, when they also seek to celebrate their convivialities, not of local, but of nation. Let the stars descend and let us shine by the brilliant beauty which glowed and illuminated the hilarity of the Ocean House Grand Dress Ball, this year.

Everything connected with the Ball passed off well, without an occurrence to mar the pleasures of the occasion.—There were about 300 guests present. And now, having discharged this duty, I bid you and your readers adieu until next year, when I trust that I shall meet all my old acquaintances and friends on this delightful spot, and, as usual, for I am no longer.

THE SPY AT THE OCEAN HOUSE.

The Supreme Court will continue its session this week, in this town.

Washington, August 30th. The Republic learns that the President is indisposed, and that he will return this evening.

ARRIVALS AT THE HOTELS.

Saturday, August 30, 1851.
OCEAN HOUSE.
John G. Weaver, Proprietor.
Wm. B. Bradford, Charles Clark, Beat; Walter Munton, Eli Hazard, Prov; Charles Wells, Phil; Robert Bradford, C. J. Rose, Chicago; Joseph S. Pittman, Prov; J. B. Hogg, N. B. Hogg & A. Philberg, Miss Paine, Mrs. Ewing, Phila; Miss Lade, St. Louis; Chas. M. Reed, Dr. S. Shize, Prov; G. Naylor Nickers, England; Nicholas Carter, Manchester, Eng; Andrew Porter, Canada; N. Hooper, N. C.; Hiram Goldsmith, G. M. Gray, J. D. Olmsted, J. Steeger, Prov; Capt. Jenkins, T. M. Lewis, R. M. S. A. John Dallen, Phil; Philander Smith; J. E. Brown, Millbury; Saml Goldes, California; J. W. Blackly, J. W. Blackly Jr., Mrs. Stephenson, N. Y.
BELLEVEUE HOUSE.
Wm. W. Hazard.
Gay Anthony, Mr. Rivers, Mr. Clarke, Prov; G. Appleton, Wm. Phillips, Boston; J. Warren, Dr. S. Parke, Mass; Mr. Woods & Prov; T. S. Metcalf & Georgia.
ATLANTIC HOUSE.
Joseph B. Weaver.
Ives G. Bajer, Boston; W. M. Francis, N. Y.; L. W. White, do; Wm. F. Kettell, Albany; W. A. Porter, Chicago; J. A. Johnson, N. Y.; J. M. G. Torrey, Boston; H. D. Woodard, Detroit; Geo. R. Fry, Hingham; Daniel Stone, Hingham.

MAILED.

In Warren, August 27th, Mr. Albert Chapman, of Middlebury, Vt., and Miss Matilda C. Molehaly, of W.

DIED.

In Providence, 29th inst., Levi Whitson, M. D., in the 51st year of his age.

SUGARS. 50 Boxes Bro. Hav. Sugar, 10 lbs Crashed, 10 " Powdered, just received and for sale by

HARBER & ROONE, South Side Market Square.

HARBERS' Magazine for September, International Magazine for September, for sale by WILLIAM H. PEEK, 99 Thomas St.

MEADIS Extracts of Vanilla, Lemon and Rose, just received, at G. G. HAZARD'S, Next door North Post Office.

FAINESTOCK'S Vermifuge, warranted genuine, at G. G. HAZARD'S, Next door North Post Office.

ORANGE Flower Lotions, at G. G. HAZARD'S.

To a tale of the Olden Time, by K. Burton, "A most exquisite Tale," Sentences and Shadings, and Buds and Blossoms, or Leaves from Aunt Minnie's Portfolio, by Georgiana Butler.

Travels in the United States, &c., during 1849 and 1850: by the Lady Emmeline Stuart Wortley.—a new edition.

Paras, or Scenes and Adventures on the banks of the Amazon, by John Laing Warren.

Passages in the Life of Mrs. Margaret Maitland, of Sunny side. Written by herself, for sale by WILLIAM H. PEEK, 99 Thomas Street.

WHITE Brandy, suitable for preserving purposes; for sale by NEWTON BROTHERS.

BOARD. A number of rooms can be conveniently accommodated with plenty of rooms, at that delightful retreat, the "Honeyman Hill" House, on very reasonable terms by the subscriber. s 1, 1w, 1d. MORFORD HAZARD.

CORN & OATS. LANDING this day from Schooner Arion, 1500 Bushels Superior Mixed Corn, and for sale by HARBER & ROONE, South side Market Square.

FLOUR. 150 Barrels Choice Family Flour, landing this day from Schooner Arion, and for sale by HARBER & ROONE, South side Market Square.

DELIGHTFUL SEA BOAT EXCURSION FROM NEWPORT TO NEW BEDFORD.

The splendid steam-boat WOLFESTER, Capt. N. M. Allen, will leave Newport on WEDNESDAY, Sept. 3d, at 2 1/2 o'clock, P. M., on an Excursion to New Bedford. Arriving at New Bedford at 4 1/2 o'clock, P. M.; returning, will leave New Bedford on Thursday, the 5th, at 8 1/2 o'clock, P. M.; arriving at Newport at 12 o'clock, A. M., thus allowing passengers ample time to enjoy themselves in that lovely city. Tickets for the Excursion 50 cents. Tickets can be procured on board the boat.

ICE CREAM AND WATER ICES. In all their different Varieties. Vanilla and other flavors.

Two fruits, or mille feuit ice, Mille fruit, Cream, Orange, Lemon, Chocolate Cream, Coffee Cream, Pistache Cream, Ferra Pudding, Cream, Prime des mille fleurs, Ferra Ice, together with Charlotte de Russe, Biscuits de glace, Meringues, Jellies, French pastries, and other Confectionary supplied for Parties and other occasions by DOWNING.

Yacht House, opposite the Atlantic, N. B. The Subscriber humbly asks a trial but once if no more, of his Ice Cream, feeling confident that justice will award to it a superiority over any that can be had in town. s 25

PARTIES at Carriage supplied with every thing appropriate, in the line, Lighter, Silver Crockery, Glass, etc., and a table can be set with all the splendor of a party. s 25

Pic Nic and Sporting Parties supplied with every thing appropriate. s 25

SWEETBREAD and Cakes for sale by DOWNING.

NEW WORK by James. The Fetter, a tale of Strife, Times, by G. P. R. Jones Esq., author of "The Conqueror," "Henry Smokey," &c. This is the first book written by the author, and is a most valuable work. s 25

THE ATLANTIC. s 25

RICE & FLOUR respectively in the public, and especially the visitors at Newport, that they have just received and opened

THE ATLANTIC. s 25

THE ATLANTIC. s 25

THE ATLANTIC. s 25

THE ATLANTIC. s 25

THE ATLANTIC. s 25

THE ATLANTIC. s 25

